

KISHENEFF IS AGAIN SCENE OF RIOTING

Czar Has Given Freedom To Many Political Prisoners; Cut Sentences Of Many Others In Manifesto.

FINLAND HAS GAINED ITS FREEDOM

Reports From Russian Empire Show That The Rebellion Is By No Means Ended, Despite Manifesto Of The Czar.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M-R.]
St. Petersburg, Nov. 4.—A ukase of the Czar was made public today granting amnesty and proclaiming a free pardon extended by Emperor to all political prisoners and all participants in the strikes and of persons held responsible for breaking all contracts. It extends to those not yet tried or sentenced. Those convicted of crimes for over ten years ago, are to be released or transferred to Siberia as colonists and those now serving as colonists are to be allowed to choose residence but must not live in St. Petersburg or Moscow for three years. The sentences of convicts and other classes are to be reduced a half, and life sentences to fifteen years.

Send Battleships.
Helsinki, Nov. 4.—Three Russian battleships and cruisers, and ten thousand troops arrived from Reval, and are anchored in the harbor. The strike continues. There is no lighting or no wire communication with interior, except on a wire working intermittently to St. Petersburg. The artillery which advanced toward Helsinki was forced to retreat without struggle.

New Commander.
St. Petersburg, Nov. 4.—Prince Alexis obolensky, new head succeeds Pobedonostsev.

Finland Free.
London, Nov. 4.—The second edition of the London Times has a St. Petersburg dispatch saying that Finland has won her freedom. The Czar has surrendered. A manifesto embodying all the demands of the Helsinki's popular delegates was submitted to the Czar for his signature. The secretary of state becomes responsible to the Diet instead of the Czar.

Killing Jews.
Odessa, Nov. 4.—The terrorists are exerting every effort to drive the Jews from their houses. They are ransacking the dwellings of Christians on suspicion that they are harboring the Jews. The correspondent for Scripps-McRae narrowly escaped, a crowd suspecting that Jews were being protected in his house. A mob gathered outside and threatened to kill the occupants and threaten to wreck the building. At the height of the frenzy, just as they were about to enter, they discovered that the house was not the one sought, but nevertheless the rioters emptied their revolvers at the windows, killing one man.

Thrown Into Flames.
Bucharest, Nov. 4.—Refugees from Kishineff say a large part of the town was burned, buildings in several streets being wholly destroyed. The shops were pillaged and ignited and Jews, dragged from their places of hiding, thrown into the flames of the burning buildings. The rioters bombarded the houses of the Jews with rifles taken from the soldiers while the governor and other authorities remained out of sight. The mob holds the railway station. All the government of Bessarabia is in revolt.

Is All Quiet.
St. Petersburg, Nov. 4.—Rioting has ended in this city and there is a general resumption of work today.

Landing Troops.
London, Nov. 4.—A correspondent of the Central News at Helsinki writes that the Russian squadron has just arrived and is landing troops. The people are thoroughly determined not to submit to the oppressive measures and are much excited and a terrible conflict seems inevitable.

Murder and Plunder Jews.
Berlin, Nov. 4.—The Tageblatt prints the following dispatch from the Jewish owner of three houses in Kieff:
"Anti-Jewish excesses have been raging here for three days and all the Jewish shops and many private houses have been totally destroyed. The number of Jewish victims is large and children and old people have been barbarously murdered while the military and police looked on with cynical indifference. The situation is desperate."

Job Still Rules Odessa.
Odessa, Nov. 4.—The massacre of the Jews was resumed in Odessa Friday morning, and reports come of fearful atrocities at Kishineff and Nicolaieff, where the mobs have pursued their work of butchery almost without hindrance.

At Kishineff it is stated that hundreds of Jews have been killed, while the hospitals, drug stores, hotels, and many private residences are filled with wounded and mutilated.

Anti-Jewish disorders are reported from Theodosia, where a number of Jews and others were buried to death. In a revolutionary outbreak in Kos-troma many were killed or wounded. Rioting and anti-Jewish outrages occurred at Saratoff, where many shops were plundered. A bomb was thrown during the conflicts between rioters and soldiers and several were killed or wounded.

Reports from Nicolaieff say that that city is in the hands of the mob, which is devastating Jewish homes and shops and beating Jews to death. Similar reports come from Kieff, where the massacre of the Jews which began on Oct. 31 continues. All the stores in the Jewish market there have been destroyed.

be about her room. The fright caused by the quarantine is now practically over and while it will not be raised for the present the school work will continue as usual. Health Officer McCarthy said this afternoon that there were no new cases developed or reported in the city and that he hoped the worst was now over.

USELESS PRINTING DONE FOR CONGRESS

Keep, Commission Chairman, Will Recommend That This Line of Waste Be Cut Off.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, Nov. 4.—Chairman C. H. Keep of the Keep Commission, which is investigating the various departments of the government, has completed a report, the chief purpose of which is to have congress dispense with much of the "useless printing now being done for that body and for the various departments. It is believed that by so doing the government printing office can retrench considerably. The acting public printer, Mr. Ricketts, has already accumulated a mass of evidence to the place of waste that would not be permitted even in a private establishment. There will probably be a thorough reformation, too, in the method of supplies, and if these two plans, especially, are carried out, a way is seen by which expenses can be reduced without cutting down the salaries of the employees which was once considered.

WARNED SHERIFF OF DIVINE COMMAND BY MAIL; NOW IN COURT

Professor of Notre Dame University Arraigned Before Grand Jury on the Charge of Sending Defamatory Postal Card.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 4.—Robert D. Greene, a professor of Notre Dame University, Goshen, was arraigned before the federal grand jury here today charged, with sending scurrilous and defamatory matter through the United States mail. Greene's offense was the mailing of a postal card to Sheriff H. H. Peck of Windsor, Vt., who was to hang Mrs. Mary Rogers, the condemned murderer. The postal card read as follows:
"Notre Dame, Ind., June 20, 1905.—Before butchering Mrs. Mary Rogers carefully consider the command of the highest power in the universe. Thou shalt not kill. Do not disgrace yourself and family by committing murder, even though it is legal and made so by men in defiance of the above command."
Prof. Greene pleaded not guilty.

PARIS CHEERS KING ALFONSO OF SPAIN

Passed Through French Capital Today En Route to Seat of the German Government.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Paris, November 4.—King Alfonso of Spain, accompanied by Premier Rios and suite, arrived here today enroute for Berlin. His train was loudly cheered, but only a short stop was made here.

Berlin Prepares.
Berlin, Nov. 4.—The greatest interest is manifested here regarding the approaching visit of Spain's king. The interior of the Spanish embassy has been redecorated in preparation for the royal visit, and all of the plans for Alfonso's reception have been laid out on the most elaborate scale. The program includes the review of an army corps, a stag hunt in the crown forest of Oranienburg and the usual dinners.

DAVIDSON SAYS HE WILL NOT STEP OUT

Talk of His Resignation Is All Talk. He Says—Does Not Mean Anything.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Nov. 4.—Lieutenant Governor James O. Davidson emphatically denied a published report that he would not serve out the unexpired term of Governor La Follette should the latter resign to go to the United States senate.

"You may depend upon it that I shall always perform my official duties as well as I am able," declared Lieutenant Governor Davidson last night. "If I am called upon to serve as governor, I shall not shrink the duty. I haven't yet determined whether I shall be a candidate for the republican nomination for governor or not. In fact, I don't know whether Gov. La Follette will resign or not."

STATE NOTES

Fire destroyed the Macabees' hall at Blaine, near Amherst. It is thought that boys set the fire while playing Halloween tricks. The loss is about $2,500.

The Rev. R. A. Rudick, who has been spending the summer at Pe-waukee recruiting his health, has accepted a call to the First Presbyterian church at Sheboygan.

The State Bank of Tabor, Ia., has been closed. A notice on the door says the bank is closed to make an examination of the affairs of President H. C. Dye. President Dye lives in Shenandoah, Ia., and is said to have been operating on the board of trade. He was a trustee of Tabor college up to a few months ago. President R. P. Hughes of Ripon college came to Wisconsin from Tabor college, of which he was president.

At least ten school boards in Out-agami county have been victimized by school chart sharks, who have visited there during the last week. Charts valued at $5 were sold for $49.50 each. The crooks represented themselves as being agents of Supt. of Schools Cary, and before visiting the schools sent letters to the members of the boards saying that a state law provides that every rural school must be equipped with a chart outlining the study of agriculture.

TEACHERS GAIN THE MILLIONS

New York Lawyer Takes Up The Suit For Back Pay For The Pedagogues.

HIS FEE DEPENDS UPON SUCCESS

Pay For One Year's Preliminary Work And Time In Court Will Likely Amount To Four Millions.

New York, Nov. 4.—One of the fattest legal fees ever paid to a member of the New York bar will go to Ira Leo Bamberger, attorney for the Teachers' Associations of this city, if he win litigation now being heard in the local courts. Mr. Bamberger is engaged in what is known as the "teachers' back pay suits," and if he is successful he will retrieve the neat sum of $25,000,000 for the instructors and will receive a fee of $4,000,000 himself.

Justice Gaynor heard the first of the suits recently. It was tried in five days, and the court decided in favor of the pedagogues. Teachers thronged the courtroom, and upon the announcement of the opinion gave the judge the "Chaataqua salute." Incidentally they prepared a preliminary check of $75,000 for Mr. Bamberger. It will be the first of a series of payments to be received "on account."

Year's Preliminary Work.
Mr. Bamberger's office is on Broadway, and when he accepted the case from the teachers he stipulated that his fee should be commensurate with the prodigiousness of his task. This was agreed to.

The lawyer worked exactly one year in drawing and perfecting the complaint, which makes two printed volumes of 3,414 pages and weighing twenty-one pounds. There are 3,418 separate actions in the courts, but the attorney believes that if he wins the first few cases they will act as tests upon the other issues at stake. The city is making a vigorous struggle to defeat Mr. Bamberger, but it is believed to have the worst of the argument. It has appealed the Gaynor case and will fight the matter through the higher courts.

Mr. Bamberger's fees is contingent on his winning all the suits. If he succeeds he will be ranked in the class of a few other high-priced attorneys here who have received fees ranging into the hundreds of thousands.

NEW MOVE PART OF STATE COMBINATION

Collection of the Inheritance Tax To Be a Campaign Issue Next Year.

Dispatches from Madison stating that the administration has begun a crusade to collect inheritance taxes that have not been paid are published in Milwaukee papers this morning. In the Milwaukee Free Press the statement is made that Attorney T. C. Richmond of Madison has been appointed as assistant to Attorney General Sturdevant to pay particular attention to the estate of the late Frederick Pabst of Milwaukee and A. P. Lovejoy of Janesville. When shown the above mentioned dispatch this morning, Attorney W. G. Wheeler said that he thought the reference to the Lovejoy estate was erroneous, as the estate had paid the tax, amounting to thirty-five hundred dollars, this last summer and held the receipts for the same signed by the secretary of state. The Sentinel, in speaking of the new move on the part of the administration, says:

"The state of Wisconsin is preparing to make a campaign for the collection of inheritance taxes alleged due the state, and as soon as all the preliminaries are arranged, it is said that vigorous action will be taken. Judge J. S. Comstock, special claim agent of the state, has been looking up the laws and penalties on the subject and believes the state can enforce the collection of a large amount of money that has escaped taxation since the law went into effect. It is said a number of well-known attorneys of the state have been appointed to assist in the investigations and prosecutions that will probably be made."

WHITE HOUSE HOSPITALITY FOR THE VISITING PRINCE

President and Mrs. Roosevelt Receive for Louis—Their Guest Today and Tomorrow.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, Nov. 4.—Prince Louis of Battenberg and his staff are the guests of President and Mrs. Roosevelt today. A reception and dinner figure in the day's entertainments in their honor. The reception takes place this afternoon, at which Prince Louis will meet the members of the Cabinet and other distinguished citizens, as well as the leaders of society in the Capital. Tonight, President and Mrs. Roosevelt will give a dinner in honor of the Prince. Tomorrow the party will see different points of interest about the city and attend church.

Prince Louis toured the city in an automobile this morning, accompanied by a brilliantly uniformed staff. General Chaffee gave a luncheon afterwards in his honor. The guests visited Fort Meyer, Virginia, witnessing cavalry drill and attending a reception at the home of the commanding officer.

The accompanying illustrations show the work on the big power-house at Lockport, Ill., for which Hayes Bros. company of this city

The material used in the construction of the building is cement blocks which are being produced on the ground. The fact is to be noted that cement is used in place of stone, of which there is unlimited quantities heaped up along the sides of the drainage canal for several miles, taken out at the time the excavations for the canal were made. For two miles on either side of the canal, just above the point where the power-house is being built, is a cement wall forty feet high which will hold the back water of the canal and give lead to the power. Recently, through the courtesy of the Hayes Bros. Co., several Janesville business men made the trip to Lockport by the drainage canal, and its wonderful engineering and construction, was explained by H. H. Jackson, who was in charge of the

To Begin Roof Construction On St. Paul Round House

With the concrete foundation completed, one end wall nearly finished and the brick-laying on the rear wall commenced it should be possible to begin the placing of purlines in the roof construction of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway company's new roundhouse here next week. The roof building will follow upon the heels of the brick construction and the time of having the house under cover will be very shortly after the last brick is laid. The progress made during the past week has been ordinary and there has been no delay to speak of caused by failure of materials to arrive in time. The loose subsoil has been entirely removed from the interior of the building and all through, though largely at one end, much tamped filling will be necessary to insure firm pit foundations and make any liability of the floor settling impossible. The first filling material—four carloads—was received last night and the work of filling was commenced this morning. This will be carried on steadily, though all efforts are now bent on completing one pit, to which a track will be run immediately, making it possible to unload material within the walls of the building.

To make the way clear for this "material" track the wrecked portion of the old roundhouse is being torn down and removed. One entire end wall and two-fifths of the rear wall is consequently being removed in the most rapid manner, the brick and mortar being loaded immediately upon dump-

FRANK MILLER, PROMINENT BUSINESS MAN IN JUDA, DEAD
Was Suddenly Attacked With Heart Failure and Died Shortly Afterward.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purposes.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath, and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from the continued use of them, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

Juda, Nov. 2.—Franklin Miller, a prominent business man of Juda, for the past fifteen years, dropped dead from heart failure late Monday afternoon. The attack came suddenly and when the deceased was feeling in his best of spirits. The attack was one of several he had sustained in the past few years, the other being of a much lighter nature and gave him and his friends little cause for alarm. The deceased lacked a few months of being seventy years of age and was in business here and his son John, under the firm name of Miller & Son, Mr. Miller was a highly respected citizen and his sudden death has caused regret in many homes in this county. He leaves three children who are: John of Juda, Mrs. J. Patton of Juda, and Mrs. Spar of Kansas. The funeral services were held from the residence at 2 o'clock on Thursday, interment taking place in Juda cemetery.

Officials from the operating department at Milwaukee were here Thursday to determine the location of the machine shops, but no decision has yet been given out. It is probable that the building will be between the roundhouse and the Davis Junction branch tracks. It will be entirely separated from the house, a track intervening. The construction will doubtless commence as soon as the location is decided upon and if possible the shops will be completed when the roundhouse is.

The new roundhouse besides being more than double the size of the old structure will have many new features. The stalls will be eighty-four feet in length and will accommodate the largest locomotive that the company owns. In fact, it would be almost possible to house two of the smaller engines on one track. Besides this increase of facilities for caring for engines, there will be eleven tracks from the house to the turn-table that will be long enough and sufficiently separated to allow a locomotive to stand on each. The pits are to be of solid concrete. The front wall will be entirely frame. Above each door there will be a large transom reaching nearly to the roof that is summer will be open and being fitted with glass will admit of a great deal of light the year around.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"Sky Farm," which Jos. R. Grismer is sending to the Myers Grand theatre on Tuesday, November 7, is a play which has been aptly said to be "full of sunshine and love," with the clearest, best, most rippling kind of merriment and the tenderest, sweetest of sentiment. "All the world loves a lover" and this is probably one of the strongest reasons why so many good people found such keen

The sparkling musical success, which Mr. B. C. Whitney will shortly present in this city for the first time Saturday, November 4, matinee and night, comes direct from Chicago, where it enjoyed a phenomenally successful run of two hundred and seven consecutive performances. In spite of the fact that the piece is called "The Isle of Bong Bong" a title which at first sight might indicate nothing new or startling to the theatre-goer,

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Saturday, Nov. 4, 1895.—Another Candidate for Supervisor.—A few individuals got together last night in the Court Room, and nominated Mr. M. C. Smith as a candidate for Supervisor in opposition to A. A. Jackson. This mass convention of the people consisted of thirteen men, including spectators, and of course will be binding upon everyone except those who got the thing up or went through this farce. Nobody present seemed to know much about it, as the man who had called it was not present to father it. Mr. Conrad was proposed for Chairman, but declined. Mr. Allen was next proposed but couldn't see it. Mr. J. P. Patten was named who also declined. Mr. Wickham was next called upon to act, but he refused. Mr. E. C. Smith's name was suggested but he asked to be excused. Finally B. Wheeler (Dem.) took the chair and Anson Rogers (Dem.) was appointed Secretary. Mr. John Winans (Dem.) nominated Mr. A. C. Smith as a candidate for Supervisor, and expatiated somewhat upon his fitness for that position. Mr. Rogers said for that position, the good of the party, when the Chairman remarked that the meeting was a people's movement. The crowd then numbered 20, and our reporter left.

THE TWO KINDS OF GRATES ARE DIRECT DRAFT and RETURN DRAFT.

The ALDINE is the only RETURN DRAFT GRATE

on the market.
ALL OTHERS ARE DIRECT DRAFT.

You would smile if any one said to you "You get as much benefit from your fuel by using an old-fashioned stove as the modern base burner."

In using direct draft grates over 80 per cent of your heat produced goes up your chimney.

In using Aldine Grates you save at least 80 per cent of this lost heat, and do it with less than 40 per cent of the fuel. Aldine Grates are more than four times as economical as any other open fire-place or grate.

Mr. W. H. Underwood, of Dexter, N. Y., Nov. 1, 1904, says: "The Aldine is now giving, and always has since installed, given perfect satisfaction."

Mr. J. N. Booth, Loganport, Ind., Oct. 20, 1904, says: "The Aldine Grate does all you claim for it; would not part with it for any money; it couldn't get any better."

Mr. E. F. Craig, Contractor, Marinette, Wis., Oct. 22, 1904, says: "I have set two of your Aldine and one of your X Ray Grates in this city, and all are giving entire satisfaction. I consider the Aldine the most practical grate in every way I have seen."

We also manufacture the best and most complete line of FIREPLACE GOODS and WOOD MANTELS on the market; and the ONLY ODDLESS GAS GRATES.

"Every success admits of being outdone." The biggest store, in any line, in this city has not arrived—yet. It is on the way—it may be here this time next year—it is almost a matter of advertising. : : :

Czar Nicholas can not say that he was not sufficiently warned.
St. Petersburg has certainly torn off the lid if reports are true.
Beloit is still worried about a Janesville man being elected Judge of their new court.
If Taft really means business he has made a good beginning by paring down cabinet expenses.
Witte has jumped into the breach as a soldier and a statesman, but he may have jumped in vain.
So Roosevelt has decided what day Thanksgiving Day shall be regardless of the makers of calendars.
Wherever a paragon banker goes wrong it is usually found there were a set of paragon dummy directors.
Jerome has apparently won the election before the votes are cast. However other men have been in the same boat before this.
The Russian revolutionists want to do everything in a minute. Tear down work of ages and establish new conditions while they wait.
Now the newspapers say that Jim Davidson is so mad he is going to resign his office as Lieutenant-Governor if La Follette persists in supporting Lenroot.
That constitutional clause that the Czar has strung out as a bait for the people, appears not to have been sufficient bait for all the empire of the "great Bears."
La Follette had better take Mrs. La Follette with him if he decides to accept the Senatorship. She has always demonstrated that she is a level-headed manager.
Today the "Gophers" of Minnesota are fighting bravely with the "Badgers" of Wisconsin and lots of other "Gophers" and "Badgers" are "rooting" diligently.
From the eighteenth story windows of the Whiteside building, at the Battery in New York, may be noticed, just now, well over toward the Brooklyn side of the river, a streak of white foam which bubbles on the surface and attracts attention.
Curiosity prompts a question as to the cause, when the visitor is informed that the bubbles mark the progress of the submarine workers, who are tunneling the river at this point to provide another thoroughfare for Greater New York, for this is a practical age you know, and time is money in a larger sense than ever before.
The two great Brooklyn bridges and the ferries are taxed beyond capacity twice a day and the half million people transported every twenty-four hours demand increased facilities, so the steam railways will soon be in operation and the tunnels will open up a new highway.
In the basement of John Wanamaker's great store is a subway station and the four tracks which accommodate the traffic of this popular rapid transit service, are crowded with trains so packed with humanity that standing-room is frequently at a premium.
As the express trains whiz by at the rate of a mile a minute, the strenuous life of the nation's metropolis is very suggestive, and as you climb the stairway to the busy street the feeling is intensified that the age is rapid and intensely practical.
The impression also grows upon you that personality and individuality are sacrificed in the mad rush for gain, which too often results in nothing but a slippery foothold on the surface.
The first assistant cashier of a prominent New York bank dropped dead at his desk the other day, and the man next to him, who had been his close associate for twenty years said:
"John died of grief. He was worth $100,000 and had no occasion to worry, so far as money is concerned, but his uncle founded the bank and intended to make John the cashier, but he died and the bank passed into the hands of the combine, and John, like myself became a small cog in the machine."

Then he added, "I would throw up my job tomorrow and get out in the country and breathe God's free air, and enjoy the sunshine on a farm for the rest of my life but for my family, for the life is too practical and destitute of sentiment for any man who refuses to be a machine."

In one of the large insurance offices, where sixty intelligent men are employed, each man is known by number. They are checked into the office in the morning, and checked out at night.

If number forty-five is five or ten minutes late a record is kept and the time is made up at the Saturday half holiday. The convict system with only the stripes lacking.

This "practical" disposition, so pronounced at the opening of the new century, is not confined to Manhattan Island.

Two miles above the falls, on the American side of the Niagara river, is located the power houses of the Niagara Power company. They are immense buildings covering several acres of ground and supplied with powerful engines and modern machinery, which is never idle.

An immense tunnel diverts the water from its natural course and the great volume which rushes over the turbid wheels and empties into the river below the falls, supplies the power which is transmitted by wire for the benefit of Buffalo and other cities.

The spirit of enterprise appears to be contagious, for on the Canadian side a coffer dam is building in the river, half a mile above the "horse-shoe" falls, and when completed, a great volume of water will find a new channel and empty below the great cataract.

The attention of both the English and American government has been called to the fact that the falls of Niagara belong to the people, and that the people's rights must not be molested.

The spirit of commercialism, which has prompted the initial movement, if unchecked, would in time destroy the beauty of this wonderful waterway and the resort which has long been the pride of the nation, would be transformed into a machine shop and a busy hive of industry.

In this practical age the field of theology as well as the domain of business and finance is effected, and the churches are given to discussing the question from the standpoint of Christian service.

Mr. Marquis Eaton, of the University Congregational church, Chicago, was recently asked to write an essay on "Practical Christianity." The realm was so attractive and the field so large that he decided to devote the every day experiences of a week to the task. This is what he said of his first day's experience.

"The Annual Fellowship Meeting was only five days distant, and my essay on 'Practical Christianity,' to be presented there, was not written. I resolved to prepare myself by noting each day such lofty thoughts and noble precepts as might fall within my observation. So, book and pencil in hand, I boarded the I. C. express, and, by my agility, was successful in gaining a seat. The car was crowded. An elderly woman stood before me. I remarked mentally that she seemed scarcely capable of enduring the jolting of the rapid run to the city, and was about to yield her place, when my book and pencil reminded me of my untouchable essay on 'Practical Christianity.' So I gathered some high sentiments, and as I wrote, forgot, of course, the swaying old lady.

"Among the passengers alighting at Van Buren street was a young mother with a babe in her arms, an old-fashioned telescope valise and a Buster Brown of say four years. The long flight of stairs seemed to surprise her. She hesitated, and, as I was passing, gave me an appealing look, which made it difficult for me to resume my thoughts. Then in some mysterious way she found a place for the baby, the valise and the hand of the boy, and began the difficult ascent. It was to me a really trying situation, being moved to aid her, but I was already late for the office, and had scarcely the time I required to jot down a beautiful quotation, which, unless it were saved at once, might forever slip my mind. After all, the woman had courage in her eye, and there is every reason to suppose that she and her little family gained the top stair in safety. We may even suppose that some non-religious person, having no responsibilities at a Fellowship meeting, found time to aid her.

"At Wabash avenue, a funny old fellow, evidently from the country, tried to stop me to ask me some foolish question about the way to somewhere. I caught enough in my haste to know he was confused by the rush and roar of that hurried spot. I was really sorry that I needed those few minutes to perfect a 'Practical Christianity' idea, for he was a kind-faced old man, and the city was very large to him. I do hope some one helped him, and that he was not run over by those dreadful cars.

"Hurrying to the office, I wrote out my thoughts, and turned to my correspondence. The first letter was annoying. A former Sunday school teacher advised me of the prospective visit to Chicago of a lad who knows nothing of the city, and who needs counsel to avoid the places he needs not to know, and to secure a suitable boarding place. All day I meant to write the lady, giving information concerning the economical and respectable hotels where a strange boy might safely lodge, but each time the stenographer came to take the letter, I found it necessary to dictate a paragraph of my essay on 'Practical Christianity' instead. After all, the chances are many that some policeman told the boy in a moment what it would cost me a quarter of an hour to write. Strange how such unprepared people will come to a big city like Chicago?

"A lady to see me? Show her in. Oh, yes, I see. Your husband was killed in that railroad accident, and you and your children are left without support. And no life insurance? How very unfortunate. Too bad, too bad! No, my poor woman the company could not possibly be made to pay damages under the circumstances. You see, it was his own negligence—he should have remembered that switch after passing it so often.

Could I not go to the company and explain that he was killed in the line of his duty, and endeavor to get a small contribution for the support of his children? But, my dear madam, do you not see that there would be no attorney fees if the money were paid from motives of charity?

"Any of your neighbors would do as well for that errand as a lawyer, probably. Ask some of them. The officials might listen, and it is just possible they would be moved to help you. This I am writing? A little talk on 'Practical Christianity.' If I had a copy prepared I would send it to your children. You will bring them up Christians? . . . I am so glad! Good morning.

"And so the first day drew on, and when it was night, I reviewed all I had written during the day, and it seemed to condense to this single concrete statement:

"Practical Christianity" consists in turning our faith in Christ to account in the service of those human beings who are weaker than ourselves, who look to us for help."

At the close of each day during the week he was forced to the same conclusion, and so his essay when completed contained the single sentence.

When this principle, so tersely stated by Mr. Eaton, is recognized more generally, there will be more men and less machines, and the daily grind of life will lose much of its monotony.

CAPTURED WESTERN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Fred McLeod of Rockford, Well Known in Janesville, Won in Professional Finals at Chicago.

Fred McLeod of Rockford, Ill., well known in Janesville, defeated W. H. Way of Cleveland in the thirty-six hole finals for the championship of the Western Golf Professionals' association over the links of the Chicago Golf club yesterday by 4 up and 2 to play. At the end of the first eighteen holes McLeod was all even. The match was in doubt up to the twenty-seventh hole, when the Rockford man led by 2 up. Despite the high wind and the cold conditions both played keen golf. In the second eighteen holes McLeod made a medal score of 79 and Way took 82. Each required 32 for the first eighteen holes. McLeod had a lead of 3 up at the fifth hole. Way won the sixth and McLeod, by holing a long putt, took the seventh. The eighth went to Way in 3 to 4, and as the ninth was halved McLeod led by 2 up at the turn in the morning round. McLeod did not win a hole in the second nine holes, Way succeeding in squaring matters by taking the twelfth and seventeenth holes. The other holes in the first round were halved. McLeod again took the lead by winning the nineteenth and twentieth holes and the next nine holes were halved. The thirtieth went to McLeod in 5 to 6. The thirty-first was halved and McLeod took a lead of 4 up by winning the thirty-second the match terminating at the sixteenth in his favor. The cards followed:

JANESVILLE MAKES PLANS FOR WINTER

Street Commissioner Sennett Suggests That Leaves in Gutters Be Burned.

Fall cleaning of lawns and preparing for winter is in progress throughout the city. In the Court House park the fountain has been painted and the benches placed in the basin and the wooden winter-overcoat placed in position. All over the city the smell of burning leaves pervades the air, fall trimming of trees is in progress and generally Janesville is taking on a winter lining against cold weather. No one has yet come forth with the fact it will be a cold winter because the musicat houses are built high or that a wild-goose bone shows it, but Dr. Hicks promises interesting weather for all. In view of the general fall cleaning up the following announcement by Street Commissioner Sennett is worth careful consideration.

Notice to Property-Owners
Because of the great number of leaves which have collected on the lawns and in the streets and gutters this fall, I wish to request that property-owners rake and burn them to prevent their blowing and accumulating in the things under street crossings and clogging them so that water cannot run off and causing the city a heavy expense.

JAMES SENNETT,
Street Commissioner.

The Why and Wherefore.

All clothing is not good clothing, even where prices would so seem to indicate. Most men have learned this truism by experience, and have reached a point in clothes-knowledge where only the most-dependable makes are acceptable, irrespective of price influence. When you buy your clothes we ask you to remember this:—

Ford clothes have ALL the good points necessary to produce the very highest grade of apparel.

You can see this for yourself. We make an unqualified guarantee as to the quality of materials and workmanship.

OUR PRICES ARE VERY POPULAR

SUITS AND OVERCOATS $10 TO $25

J. L. FORD & SON.
FASHIONABLE CLOTHES MAKERS.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

--Leading Dress Goods Items--

$1.00 Henrietta The very best value in this popular cloth that we have been able to find and we have ransacked the market. All colors.—It will please you.

$1.00 Broadcloth The demand for Broadcloth commenced early and we prepared for it. Our stock contains excellent numbers from $3.50 down, but we consider our Broadcloth that we sell for $1.00 a little ahead of anything we have seen.

Brilliantines and Sicilians They have been exceptionally good this fall and we have been supplying all demands. We have reference particularly to the Black and Dark Blues, that cannot be matched elsewhere at 50c, 75c, $1.00.

Cream Wool Serge 50c Probably more yards sold at 50c than at any other price. We have a 38-inch Cream all wool Serge that is BETTER than Serges that sell for 65c at other stores. Easy to prove it.

Jamestown Dress Goods Brodhead Dress Goods. For many years the Dress Goods made by the Jamestown and Brodhead Mills have stood at the head. They give satisfaction. Although very old manufacturers the ground under their feet is free from grass as they are very active, showing new things constantly. The dress goods made by these mills consist of many new weaves and our prices are 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 and $2.00.

Fine Wool Veiling 65c Large range of colors. It is a great seller and we know of no better fine wool cloth to sell at this medium price. It would cost us more to buy it today. 40-inch 65c.

At 25c We recommend the wool mixed Henriettas as good low priced Dress Goods that wear well.

At 15c The Danish Cloth is a ready seller for Waists and Dresses. Nice appearing, good for service.—27-inch.

GALE NICHOLSON BARELY ESCAPES BEING CREMATED

Father Receives Telegram From Portland, Oregon, This Morning—Lost All His Valuables.

This morning F. F. Nicholson received a telegram, dated November 3, Portland, Ore., from his son, Gale Nicholson, bearing the news of the latter's narrow escape from death and loss of all his valuables. The sender of the dispatch was chary of particulars, neither stating the time or place of his unfortunate escape. However, it is surmised here that it was from a hotel fire that he was saved and that the conflagration occurred Thursday night or early Friday, as the telegram was sent yesterday, though not delivered in Janesville until today. Mr. Nicholson is traveling on the Pacific coast for the Parker Pen company of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Warren left for Rockford this afternoon to spend Sunday with relatives.

"The way to wealth," said Benjamin Franklin, "is as plain as the way to market."

It is simply the proposition of SAVING YOUR MONEY.

No one can save money who knowingly throw their money away, by paying more to one dealer for an article they can get elsewhere at HALF the price for the same grade of goods.

No matter what the motive behind you, you are simply WASTING your God-given means.

Now, we are talking dentistry. We will say your family needs a lot of dental work. Possibly four or five gold crowns will have to be put on to save broken-down teeth. You know full well that your family dentist has been charging you up $10 each for every crown he has done for you.

Several of your friends have shown you beautiful work done by Dr. Richards for just ONE-HALF of this amount, or $5.

Now, what's the use? Loyalty is all right.

But, isn't that extra $5 YOUR money?

Haven't you worked hard for it? Haven't you a right to SAVE it?

There's no compulsion about this matter of employing dentists.

You are free to select the dentist you wish and where you can save a lot of money by so doing, isn't it only REASONABLE to do so?

Now, what's the use?

JAMES HEFFERAN HIT BY A TRAIN

ON THE TRACKS WHERE JUDGE PHELPS WAS KILLED.

WESTERN AVENUE CROSSING

Injuries Not Considered Serious—Wagon Demolished—Accident Happened This Morning.

James Hefferan of 551 Western avenue nearly met his death this morning on the same grade crossing where the late Judge Phelps was killed, several years ago, and others have also met death. While Hefferan's wagon was demolished and he himself thrown many feet, he sustained but slight injuries. Dr. St. John, who was called, said that he was more shocked than severely hurt.

The accident occurred at the North-Western crossing of Western avenue and Mr. Hefferan drove onto the tracks without seeing the oncoming passenger train. When nearly over the track the engine hit his rear wheels and threw him and the demolished wagon several feet. This is the same crossing where many other persons have been injured in the past.

On Afton "Shoot" The train that struck Mr. Hefferan's wagon was the Afton train that leaves the depot at nine-twenty. Mr. Hefferan was on his way to his farm for a load of cornstalks and was driving in a democrat wagon. His condition this afternoon is not considered dangerous. A slight scalp wound and some internal injuries are left as remembrances of his accident.

Who Went His Bail in Former Case, and is Brought Here to Urge That He is Still Liable for $1,000.

Andrew Morstadt, residing at 308 Cherry street, and employed as a butcher in a Monierly shop, has gone to Chicago to face what appears to be another "faked-up" charge against him, without any requisition papers. This time he is wanted for desertion. The other time it was non-support. The argument relative to the granting of the requisition papers was to come up at Madison on Monday and Morstadt's attorney, O. A. Oestreich, after arranging this matter on Wednesday went to Delavan on other business. He has not since returned and in the interim, Officer E. J. Farrell, sent here by Sup. Collins to get the man, has successfully carried out a little ruse which will obviate the necessity of any discussion before the governor.

Appeal to His Honor

Now, according to Edward Ryan, with whom O. A. Oestreich is associated in the practice of law, the original case against Morstadt was tried and a verdict of acquittal rendered over a year ago. At that time a German professing to be a friend of Morstadt went his $1,000 bonds in order that he might be released to return home until the case should be tried. Morstadt went back to face his trial, was acquitted, and subsequently obtained a divorce from the woman who long ago, according to his side of the story at least, deserted him and only commenced her persecution of him when she learned in some manner that by frugality and industry he had accumulated a little property. For the German friend, therefore, there long ago ceased to be any liability on the bond. But the roxy Farrell sent for him, just the same, and either persuaded him that the liability still existed or induced him to deceive Morstadt into believing that it still held and that the good friend who had helped the Monierly man in a time of dire stress would have to pay the money if he did not put in an appearance at the Chicago court. Farrell told the local officers that Morstadt was under bonds to appear there last July and that the man who had gone his bail would have to pay $1,000 if he did not go with him. Of course, there is a possibility that the Chicago policeman is right and that unbeknown to Morstadt's attorney some such responsibility does rest on him, but the possibility is a very remote one, according to the facts that can be gleaned about the case hereabouts.

The German friend arrived last evening and he labored long with the Janesville man. Morstadt finally saw that it was his duty to go back with the friend and the officer and took his departure with them shortly after four this morning. By this time, presumably, he is enjoying a quiet cell in the Chicago bastille, beyond the reach of friends and at the mercy of the policeman.

Story of Rough Treatment

Morstadt's previous experience in Chicago, according to the story he told upon his return to Janesville, May 2, 1904, was a lesson which should have taught him to keep out of the clutches of officers there in the future at any cost. He said that a metal pipe was forced down his throat, while in jail, and that he was tied up in a blanket and helped themselves to $35 and his watch. After that they told him that there was a judgment against him for $500, led him to a depot and put him on a train for Janesville, urging him to lose no time in getting the money and hurrying back to Chicago with it. When he did go back he was accompanied by a lawyer and there was no more Chicago "funny-work" on the part of the officers.

Milwaukee Man Tells of Strange Experience With Peculiar Medicine After Doctors Failed.

An interesting letter from Mr. Fred M. Roening, 750 First St., Milwaukee, Wis., tells a remarkable story of years of suffering with kidney disease and his almost miraculous cure.

In part his letter says: "When Mr. L. T. Cooper, the famous philanthropist visited Milwaukee I heard of the wonderful power of his New Discovery Medicine and the marvelous cures that were being effected."

"The awful pains in my back were unbearable and at times rendered me absolutely helpless."

"I had tried several doctors and numerous remedies all of which afforded me no relief whatever and when my family heard of my intention to try the Cooper Medicines advised me against it. The proof of its efficiency seemed convincing and I secured a full treatment. Now I have joined the multitude of others who have been cured."

"After the tenth day I noticed a wonderful improvement, the pain in my back stopped; I began to gain in strength and flesh and now I work regularly and feel stronger and better in every way."

"I hope other sufferers may profit by my experience and not let any one influence them against this wonderful medicine."

Cooper's New Discovery costs $1.00 per bottle and will cure kidney and stomach trouble, catarrh, deafness, blood diseases, rheumatism and paralysis. Cooper's Quick-Relief, the assistant remedy, costs 50 cents. Both can be had of E. B. Helmstreet, Mr. Cooper's special agent in Janesville.

DAINTY EXAMPLES OF MODERN LACES

The outer piece, a bertha form, is one of those braid laces that have sprung up so rapidly of late, and which combine rapidity of work with extremely artistic result. Duchesse and Honiton braids are both employed, and some effective little motifs in Bruges are inserted in the pattern. The brides, or connecting stitches, are of the character common to all hand-made laces, and are executed in a very fine Irish linen thread.

The inner collar, one of the more intricate of machine-made pieces, shows large medallions of fine net upon which a design of mountain ash berries stands out in bold relief, the berry being worked in relieve. The border is an excellent imitation of Venetian rose point, the rose design, with foliage and petal pendants, being cleverly reproduced.

CHOSE MANSON AS A LEADER FROM EGYPT

Democratic Party Seek the Promised Land Under Leadership of New Moses.

In Milwaukee yesterday the democratic party of the state of Wisconsin met, through their executive committee, and prepared to wage a merciless war upon republicanism in the future. Their greatest work was the election of chairman and Herbert H. Manson, a young man from Wausau, without much prominence in the political world, was chosen for this office. Peter J. Mouat, representative of the first congressional district, resigned his position, giving as his reason that he could not hold the position as he was using railroad mileage earned by advertising in his newspaper and believed that under the circumstances he could not hold the position without coming into conflict with the law. J. J. Cunningham of Janesville was elected in his place.

Herbert H. Manson, the new chairman, was born and raised in Marathon county, where his father was prominently identified with the lumber and real estate interests of that section of the state. He is about 34 years of age. After being graduated from the local schools he entered the law department of the University of Wisconsin as a member of the class of 1895. Immediately after receiving his degree he settled down to the practice of law at Wausau, and in the course of events was elected district attorney and city attorney, serving several terms. Last year he was married to the younger daughter of Dr. Albert A. Dye of Madison. After the death of his father he gave up the active practice of law to devote himself exclusively to the management of the real estate business of his father's estate. It is a curious coincidence that his father and his five brothers are strong republicans. He is the present county chairman of the democratic county committee of Marathon county and is said to have the best democratic organization in his county of any in the state of Wisconsin.

Announcement was made at the White House of the appointment of Lawrence H. Grahame of New York city to be commissioner of the interior for Porto Rico, vice John S. Elliott, resigned.

Run it in Janesville.

Shot Full of Holes.

"I am 65 years old, and have been a great sufferer from headache all my life. One of Dr. Miles' circulars was left at my door, and what it contained about headache interested me, so that I determined to invest a dollar in their make of shot, and go gunning for that headache. The first charge brought it down, but I continued to shoot until the thing was shot so full of holes that I believe it will never come to life again. I consider it the work of a 'good Samaritan' to spread the knowledge of what Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills will do." I. F. MOORE, 1352 Fairfax Ave., Bridgeport, Conn.

Headache, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Backache, Stomachache, Bearing Down Pains, Rheumatic Pain, or Pain from any cause yields readily to the soothing influence of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills upon the nerves, the irritated condition of which causes the pain. Harmless if taken as directed, and leave no disagreeable after-effects.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit you. If it fails he will return your money. 25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Fifteen Hundred Miles of Cars Superior Telegram: The railroad car factories of the United States have orders for new cars to be manufactured during the ensuing year to an extent sufficient to make a train more than 1,500 miles long. Evidently the car workmen will have a job during 1906.

Labor Notes

The Sydney (N. S. W.) Labor Council has passed a resolution protesting against the State Government's treatment of the unemployed. A boss carpenter at Dundee, N. Z., was recently fined $30 for employing a workman at wages lower than those fixed by the Arbitration Court, and the employee concerned was fined $10 for accepting less than the law provided.

The British Trade Union Congress at Hanley, by a vote representing 1,253,000 members against 28,000, declared for free trade, asserting that any departure therefrom would shroud detrimental to the interests of the working classes, upon whom the burden of protection would press the most heavily.

Labor is plentiful in Natal, South Africa, and persons are advised not to go to that country on the chance of getting work.

The Federated Stewards and Cooks' Union of Australia has registered under the Federal Arbitration Act.

A bill which has been introduced into the Victorian, Australian Legislative Assembly to regulate the attachment of wages provides that no order shall be made by any court, judge or justice for the attachment of the wages of any clerk, servant, laborer or workman, whose pay does not exceed $2 per week.

A. D. Wales, who sued John Mitchell for $200,000 for alleged services in settling the anthracite strike of 1902, has outlined his plan in an amended bill of particulars. He intended to procure drastic legislation in New York, Pennsylvania and in Congress to drive the trusts to cover.

The Los Angeles Central Labor Council has succeeded in securing the enforcement of the eight-hour day on city contract work.

In 1894, the hours of labor of about 43,000 work people in British government factories, and workshops were reduced to an average of 48 per week.

Makes digestion and assimilation perfect. Makes new red blood and bone. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. A tonic for the sick and weak, 35 cents, tea or tablets. Smith, Drug Co.

Robbers yesterday wrecked the vault and safe of the Bank of Creighton at Creighton, Mo., and escaped with $4,000.

"CUT IT OUT"

says the doctor to many of his lady patients, because he doesn't know of any medicinal treatment that will positively cure womb or ovarian troubles, except the surgeon's knife. That such a medicine exists, however, has been proved by the wonderful cures performed on diseased women, in thousands of cases, by

WINE OF CARDUI

IT CURES WOMB DISEASE.

It has saved the lives of thousands of weak, sick women, and has rescued thousands of others from a melancholy lifetime of chronic invalidism. It will cure you, if you will only give it a chance. Try it.

Sold at every drug store in $1.00 bottles.

WRITE US A LETTER

Put aside all timidity and write us freely and frankly, in strictest confidence, telling us all your symptoms and troubles. We will send free advice (in plain, sealed envelope), how to cure them. Address: Ladies' Advisory Dept., The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

GAVE UP SUPPORTER.

"I wore a supporter for four years, to keep up my womb, which had prolapsed every time I went down before it," writes Mrs. J. J. Christian, of Knoxville, N. Y. "My doctor told me no medicine would help me. I suffered untold misery and could hardly walk. After taking two bottles of Cardui I gave up my supporter. Now I am taking my fifth bottle, have no bad feelings as formerly, and can do my usual work a day at a time. I strongly recommend Cardui to every suffering woman."
